

Project Associate - Research & Training

Position vacant: Full Time

Apply by: 31st December, 2022

Location: Delhi NCR (This position requires travelling within and outside Delhi)

About Ayurgyan Nyas: AyurGyan Nyas (AGN) is a not-for-profit working towards the development and integration of Universal Ethics Education (UEE) in educational institutes, organisations and grassroots community spaces. It was established in 2014 with a belief in developing academics and students as ethically, socially and emotionally aware individuals.

To realise our vision, we develop and deploy Universal Ethics based curriculum interventions for young individuals in institutional and community settings.

We provide training to facilitators of our curriculum, conduct periodic research and surveys at schools and community settings. At present we have one vacant position for full-time Project associate for a community project in Delhi.

Please visit our website – <https://ayurgyannyas.org>

Requirement:

- Between 1-2 years of working experience with research agencies, non-profit organisations, preferably in the social development sector.
- Has experience in development of the research strategy, conducting primary and secondary research, you are also expected to develop various research products like Baseline & Endline forms, Monitoring and Evaluation tools, detailed research reports for the stakeholders, etc as per the requirement.
- Support and lead in primary and secondary research for projects and programs and independently undertake meaningful research to support project implementation.
- A good level of domain understanding and knowledge to be able to contribute more effectively.
- Participating in events, seminars, etc. related to the field of work.
- Support in project management aspects such as coordinating with partners, stakeholders, and assistance in activities to execute a project.
- Ability to conduct regular training of facilitators at the communities and/or schools.
- Efficient user of MS Word, Excel, and Google documents.
- Good written & oral communication skills (English and Hindi)
- Must have willingness to work in a team with good interpersonal skills.
- A self motivated person & enthusiastic learner.
- Has the ability to service clients and perform under deadline pressure.

Qualification:

- Bachelor's or Master's degree in any stream and preferably in Social Work, Management, Demography, or other relevant social science fields that includes research analysis.

Compensation Offered:

Salary and benefits are comparable to the nonprofit sector; and commensurate with the qualification, experience and internal equity.

Application process:

- Candidates interested may please send their CV with the subject "Project Associate - R&T" at official@ayurgyannyas.org
- Coordinates (email and mobile no.)

"Only shortlisted candidates shall be contacted. Ayurgyan Nyas reserves the sole right to alter/modify/cancel the entire selection process or the position or the vacancy or to disqualify any candidature at any stage of the selection process".

Job Email id - official@ayurgyannyas.org

>>Project Associate - Research & Training

>>Position vacant: Full Time

>>Apply by: 31st December, 2022

>>Location: Delhi NCR (This position requires travelling within and outside Delhi)

>>About Ayurgyan Nyas: AyurGyan Nyas (AGN) is a not-for-profit working towards the development and integration of Universal Ethics Education (UEE) in educational institutes, organisations and grassroots community spaces. It was established in 2014 with a belief in developing academics and students as ethically, socially and emotionally aware individuals.

To realise our vision, we develop and deploy Universal Ethics based curriculum interventions for young individuals in institutional and community settings.

We provide training to facilitators of our curriculum, conduct periodic research and surveys at schools and community settings. At present we have one vacant position for full-time Project associate for a community project in Delhi.

Please visit our website – <https://ayurgyannyas.org>

>>Requirement:

- 1)Between 1-2 years of working experience with research agencies, non-profit organisations, preferably in the social development sector.
- 2)Has experience in development of the research strategy, conducting primary and secondary research, you are also expected to develop various research products like Baseline & Endline forms, Monitoring and Evaluation tools, detailed research reports for the stakeholders, etc as per the requirement.
- 3)Support and lead in primary and secondary research for projects and programs and independently undertake meaningful research to support project implementation.
- 4)A good level of domain understanding and knowledge to be able to contribute more effectively.
- 5)Participating in events, seminars, etc. related to the field of work.
- 6)Support in project management aspects such as coordinating with partners, stakeholders, and assistance in activities to execute a project.
- 7)Ability to conduct regular training of facilitators at the communities and/or schools.
- 8)Efficient user of MS Office - Word, Excel, Powerpoint and Google documents.
- 9)Good written & oral communication skills (English and Hindi)
- 10)Must have willingness to work in a team with good interpersonal skills.

11)A self motivated person & enthusiastic learner.

12)Has the ability to service clients and perform under deadline pressure.

>>Qualification:

Bachelor's or Master's degree in any stream and preferably in Social Work, Management, Demography, or other relevant social science fields that includes research analysis.

>>Compensation Offered:

Salary and benefits are comparable to the nonprofit sector; and commensurate with the qualification, experience and internal equity.

>>Application process:

Candidates interested may please send their CV with the subject "Project Associate - R&T" at official@ayurgyannyas.org

Coordinates (email and mobile no.)

"Only shortlisted candidates shall be contacted. Ayurgyan Nyas reserves the sole right to alter/modify/cancel the entire selection process or the position or the vacancy or to disqualify any candidature at any stage of the selection process".

Job Email id - official@ayurgyannyas.org